Looking for more to do this Sunday afternoon?

MUSEUMS, CULTURE AND HISTORY IN THE FOUR RIVERS HERITAGE AREA

WALKABLE FROM THE FESTIVAL: DOWNTOWN ANNAPOLIS

1 Charles Carroll House
107 Duke of Gloucester, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 12-4pm JUN-OCT
charlescarrollhouse.org
This historic house and garden was home to three generations of Carrolls and the birthplace of Charles Carroll of Carrollton (1737-1832), the only Catholic signor of the Declaration of Independence. Today, the property, on the grounds of St. Mary’s Roman Catholic Church, is among the largest and most impressive historic sites in Annapolis.

2 Hammond-Harwood House
19 Maryland Avenue, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 12-5pm
hammondharwoodhouse.org
The Hammond-Harwood House is a museum of 18th century architecture and art standing as a testament to the importance of preservation to the residents of Annapolis, and America. Built in 1774, this National Historic Landmark presents a window into the lives of the people who built the house, lived in it, and ensured that it would be enjoyed by future generations for years to come. Last tour is at 4 PM.

3 Hogshead
43 Pinkney Street, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 12-4pm
annapolis.org
The Hogshead is an early 18th-century building similar to the modest wood frame structures that housed many colonial Annapolitans. Today, it serves as an interactive, hands-on museum and historic landmark, offering visitors the opportunity to experience what life was like during the 1700s in Annapolis.

4 Kunta Kinte-Alex Haley Memorial
Annapolis City Dock
Sunday hours: all day
kintehaley.org
This memorial includes a sculptural grouping depicting Alex Haley, author of the Pulitzer Prize winning novel Roots, speaking to children about Kunta Kinte, an enslaved African brought to Annapolis. Additional components include a story wall with statements from Haley’s book “Roots” and a compass Rose, next to the Market House. Explore 4 different videos by scanning the QR codes mounted on each of the different memorial components.

5 Maryland State House
100 State Circle, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 9am-5pm
statehouse.md.gov
Built c. 1772-1779, the Maryland State House is the oldest state capitol in continuous use. It was home to the Continental Congress from November 1783 to August 1784, and is the only state house to have served as the nation’s capital.

While you’re here, enjoy the "Art in Annapolis" Trails! @ https://www.annapolis.gov/685/Art-Catalogue

See more on the other side...
You’ll Need Your Car, But Worth a Visit

Annapolis Maritime Museum
723 2nd Street, Eastport
Sunday hours: 11am-3pm
amaritime.org
The historic McNasby Oyster Company was the last oyster packing plant in Annapolis and serves as the home of the Annapolis Maritime Museum. The maritime heritage exhibits, environmental education programs, and engaging community events held at the McNasby Campus have established the Museum as a beloved community anchor.

Chesapeake Children’s Museum
25 Silopanna Road, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 10am-4pm
theccm.org
The mission of Chesapeake Children’s Museum is to create an environment of discovery about oneself, the peoples, the technologies, and the ecology of the Chesapeake Bay area for all our children and for the children in us all.

Historic London Town and Gardens
839 Londontown Road, Edgewater
Sunday hours: 10am-4pm
historiclondontown.org
Over three hundred years ago, the colonial tobacco port town of London was bustling with activity as ships carrying trade goods stopped at the site of an active ferry crossing... and then it all but disappeared. Discover the once “lost town” for yourself. Tour the William Brown House (c. 1760), a National Historic Landmark, and reconstructed colonial buildings. Also enjoy 10 acres of woodland and ornamental gardens, with great views of the South River. London Town is both family and leashed pet friendly.

Galesville Heritage Museum
988 Main Street, Galesville
Sunday hours: 1-4pm
galesvilleheritagesociety.org
The Galesville Heritage Museum exhibits tell the history of Galesville, beginning with Native Americans and later the Quakers who settled here. Galesville’s importance as a port grew and watermen gathered the bounty of rivers and bay. With the coming of steamboats businesses thrived and watermen, craftsmen, storekeepers, and business people built a vibrant village life centered in churches, schools, and town hall.

Historic Village and Deale Area Museum
389 Deale Road, Tracys Landing
Sunday hours: 1-4pm
dahs.us
The Deale Area Historical Society’s mission is to collect, preserve, exhibit and interpret documents, images and artifacts related to the history of the Deale. At the Historic Village, you’ll find a 19th-century village featuring Deale area exhibits, a one-room school, African-American beneficial society meetinghouse, a dwelling, and outbuildings.

Walkable from the Festival: Downtown Annapolis

6 Mitchell Gallery at St. John’s College
60 College Avenue, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 12-5pm, CLOSED July & August sjc.edu
The Elizabeth Myers Mitchell Gallery, located on the campus of St. John’s College, is a treasure in historic Annapolis. Accredited by the American Alliance of Museums in 2012 and dedicated to bringing art of world renown to Annapolis since it opened in 1989.

7 United States Naval Academy Armel-Lefftwich Visitor Center
52 King George Street, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 9am-5pm
navyonline.org
The Visitor Center is the first stop on a visit to the undergraduate college of the U.S. Navy and U.S. Marine Corps. Information specialists welcome visitors to view the 13-minute film, The Call to Serve, and to take a guided walking tour with a professional, certified guide. Tours include information on the history and architecture of the Naval Academy and a peek into the life of a midshipman.

8 U.S. Naval Academy Museum
118 Maryland Avenue, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 11am-5pm
usna.edu/Museum
The U.S. Naval Academy Museum welcomes more than 100,000 visitors annually from all over the world. Located in Preble Hall on the grounds of the U.S. Naval Academy, the Museum offers two floors of exhibits about the history of seapower, the development of the U.S. Navy, and the role of the U.S. Naval Academy in producing officers capable of leading America’s sailors and marines.

9 William Paca House and Garden
186 Prince George Street, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 12-5pm
annapolis.org
This five-part Georgian mansion was built in the 1760s by William Paca, one of Maryland’s four Signers of the Declaration of Independence and the state’s third Governor. Carefully restored by Historic Annapolis beginning in 1965, today it is recognized as one of the finest 18th-century homes in the country and a National Historic Landmark.