MUSEUMS, CULTURE AND HISTORY IN THE FOUR RIVERS HERITAGE AREA

WALKABLE FROM THE FESTIVAL: DOWNTOWN ANNAPOLIS

- 1 Charles Carroll House
107 Duke of Gloucester, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 12-4pm JUN-OCT
charlescarrollhouse.org

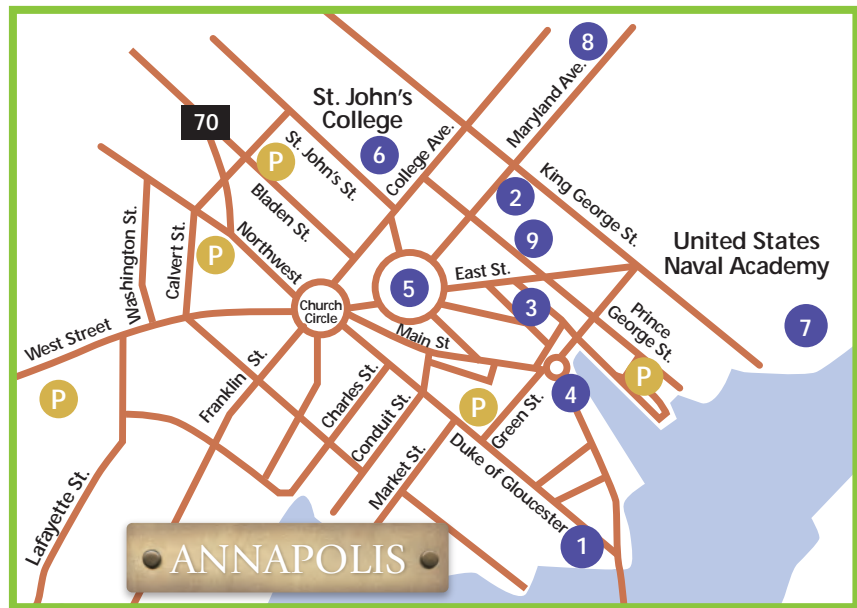

This historic house and garden was home to three generations of Carrolls and the birthplace of Charles Carroll of Carrollton (1737-1832), the only Catholic signer of the Declaration of Independence. Today, the property, on the grounds of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, is among the largest and most impressive historic sites in Annapolis.

- 2 Hammond-Harwood House
19 Maryland Avenue, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 12-5pm
hammondharwoodhouse.org

The Hammond-Harwood House is a museum of 18th century architecture and art standing as a testament to the importance of preservation to the residents of Annapolis, and America. Built in 1774, this National Historic Landmark presents a window into the lives of the people who built the house, lived in it, and ensured that it would be enjoyed by future generations for years to come. Last tour is at 4 PM.

- 3 Hogshead
43 Pinkney Street, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 12-4pm
annapolis.org

The Hogshead is an early 18th-century building similar to the modest wood frame structures that housed many colonial Annapolitans. Today, it serves as an interactive, hands-on museum and historic landmark, offering visitors the opportunity to experience what life was like during the 1700s in Annapolis.

- 4 Kunta Kinte-Alex Haley Memorial
Annapolis City Dock
Sunday hours: all day
kintehaley.org

This memorial includes a sculptural grouping depicting Alex Haley, author of the Pulitzer Prize winning novel Roots, speaking to children about Kunta Kinte, an enslaved African brought to Annapolis. Additional components include a story wall with statements from Haley's book "Roots" and a compass Rose, next to the Market House. Explore 4 different videos by scanning the QR codes mounted on each of the different memorial components.

- 5 Maryland State House
100 State Circle, Annapolis
Sunday hours: 9am-5pm statehouse.md.gov

Built c. 1772-1779, the Maryland State House is the oldest state capitol in continuous use. It was home to the Continental Congress from November 1783 to August 1784, and is the only state house to have served as the nation's capital.
